Poetry.

The Music of Labor

I love the ploughman's whistle,
The reaper's cheerful song,
The drover's oft-repeated shout,
Spurring his stock along.
The bustle of the market man
As he hies him to the town,
The halloo from the tree top
As the ripening fruit comes down,
The busy sound of threshers
As they clean the ripening grain,
The husker's joke and catch of glee
Neath the moonlight on the plain,
The kind voice of the drayman,
The shepherd's gentle call—
Those sounds of pleasant industry
I love—I love them all.

Miscellaneous.

Wanting too Much.

People are to blame for mutch of their unhappiness. They want too much. They have no control over their wishes—continually long for the impossible and thus run to want as vines run to weeds if not pruned. Not many days ago we visited a gentleman at his house on business. He sent a note saying he wanted to see us at once, on important matters. We never before saw such a family. His want was purely a speculative one, not worthy the thought or attention of any person of sense. While in his house his wife told us of her wants. His five children had more wants than ten grown people could supply. The man wanted to be rich. He wanted to be helped into some place where he could make money. If he could be assisted to some official position, anywhere, he would willingly give one half the salary to whoever would help him to the place. It was for this he wanted an interview.

"What is your present business?"

"Foreman of a manufacturing establishment."

"What wages do you receive?"

"Forty-five dollars a week."

"Unusually good wages. Can you not support your family on that sum?"

"Yes, but I want to make money. My wife wants so many things I cannot get for her. The children all want so many things, I dread to come home. Their mother tells them to tease father till he gets what they want. When the children are not teasing me for something, their mother is. If I will only buy something or other for them, for me, and as I can have no peace as a poor man, I must find some way to be a rich man?"

"What does your wife want most?"

"She wants a gold watch and a long chain to wear around her neck, and she wants a new silk dress, and a new stylish bonnet, and new furniture for the parlor, and a new set of dishes, and a better house than this, and a private teacher for the children, and a piano, so Maggy and Kitty can take music lessons, and wants me to wear a nice suit of clothes on the street so folks will not think I am a mechanic, that I can take off, and put on old clothes in the shop; and she wants me to get into some office, and into a respectable position in society."

"What will it cost to satisfy her desires in this respect for appearances?"

"Several thousand dollars."

"What do the children want?"

"They want everything they see. The boys want watches, rings, jewelry, good clothes and genteel places where they can get good wages and have nothing much to do. The girls want nice shawls and new dresses, and fancy shoes, and to take lessons in dancing, and to have the house look nice like the house of the rich man a few doors from us, and they want me to promise that I will get what they all want at once. I tell you sir, I am worried to death by wants, and I must find some more lucrative employment; so I want an office—one with good perquisites. Then I can get along.

* * * * * *

This Satuaday night alone in our library, closing the work of the week it seems a duty to answer the man of many wants plainly, and as a brother should speak with brother.

Such a man is a slave to his own weakness. He is not fit to hold office, for each member of his family would be a constant tempter to dishonesty. To have peace in his family and gratify frolish wants, we fear he would soon become dishonest and cause other people to suffer. The man is no master of his own house, much less of himself. His wife is a poor, weak, silly, selfish, and heartless woman, unfit to bring up a family of children. She does not deserve the honest hard-working husband she has. She does not try to help him to be happy and comfortable in his home, or to provide a fund in anticipation of a day of sickness or disaster. She continually complains. Her desire is only to make an appearance—to make people beleive they are rich or dishonest. She has lost sight of the souls, the hearts, the minds of her children, and is educating the girls to false lives and to sell themselves to the highest bidder, as she is educating her boys to be dishonest, dishonorable men. Such wives drive good husbands to crime, to disgrace, to want. They start their girls on the insane road for silks, satins, laces, flounces, furbelows nick nacks, false hair, false bosoms, false color to their checks, and all that army of useless wants, to gratify which drive men to forgery and murder, and women to lives of shame and a market of their virtue, that their bodies may be fashionably ornamented and attired.

It is right for a man to gratify all the wants of life he can, without injury to others or to himself. It is the duty of a man to educate his children to usefulness, not to vain show, and to teach himself and his family to live within, that they may never be compelled to live without, means. There are thousands of men being driven by their families to premature graves, as there are thousands of wives who have no idea of the cost of money—of the worth of money, of the life long struggle of their husbands to obtain it, and who live only to wear out a husband, shine above other women and with the life insurance money realized by the death of a husband, have the means to flirt and start anew on the road to ruin.

He is not a good husband, a kind father, a provident provider who allows his family to torment his life and his home with a continual importuning for the means to gratify idle wants. There should be reason in all things. The good man is firm and kind. He will see that he lives within his means, and that his children are taught to do likewise. He will guard the reputation of his wife, that she may not heedlessly through selfishness acquire the name of a heartless wife and mother, who would sacrifice all that is noble, and goed, and loving, and honorable in nature, for the gratification of fashion, and weakening of the mind and the degredation of true manhood or womanhood.

Such wantoness of desire on the part of man or woman is an evidence of weakness. People educate their children in the art of deception and keeping up of appearances far more than in the art of becoming true men and women. It is not dress or fine houses that make men happy or women good. There is something beyond all this. It is the duty of every person to appear at all times, in dress and in mind, as well as they can consistently with their circumstances, but beyond this no honest person can or will go. The good father will help his children to weed out the actual from the imaginary wants. To do this is the first lesson in honesty. Then he will be kind to his home ones. He will save his earnings to make his home pleasant, and to educate his children to fill only honorable positions in life. The good wife will not be selfish, heartless, cruel to her husband and intent only on style, but will so live within their means that each may have a respect for the other, without such full respect then never can be true, lasting love, but in place thereof, ruined homes, abandoned lives, dishonorable actions and degradation, all following, as hyenas follow an army—that invisible army of idle, useless wants.

North Carolina.

We are gratified to know that the tide of emigration is moving toward this State with a steady current. It was slow at first, but is gradually and steadily increasing its volume. Much has been done to aid it by the efforts of Colonel George Little, the State Commissioner of Emigration, as well as by the efforts of several agencies, among which the North Carolina Land Company has had the largest share.

We may properly repeat a few of the reasons why we think North Carolina among the best States for people to emigrate to. While her territory is large than that of either New York or Pennsylvania, she has but little more than one million of inhabitants. Along her eastern borders are large bodies of the finest timber, easily accessible to water transportation, and many emigrants from the North are now operating profitably in that region. These lands, cleared and properly drained, are as fine for agricultural purposes as any in the world.

Inside of this section there is a broad belt, much of which is covered by productive turpentine trees, which are highly remunerative to those who box and dip them. The soil, being a sandy loam in many places, produces as fine crops of cotton as well as the cerials. It is, however, especially suited to grape growing and the production of wine. Properly set with scuppernong, flowers, mish, and other native grapes, it produces more than twice the number of gallons to the acre that can be obtained in Europe. The cultivation of the grape is rapidly increasing in this region. We were gratified to learn recently that the large Tokay vineyard near Fayetteville had produced a crop exceeding greatly any yield, and that the wine made from it is of superior quality. Similar statements reach us from other wine-growing localities. We have been informed that Mr. Worth, in Fayetteville, obtained this past season from a single scuppernong vine eighty bushels of grapes and two hundred and fifty gallons of wine. There are other vines in North Carolina which make a larger yield annually. The demand, too, for these native wines is rapidly increasing. There is land enough and to spare in eastern North Carolina to furnish all the wine that can be consumed in the United States. Why should not European emigrants from wine-growing regions make this section their home?

The middle region of the State, extending nearly three hundred miles to the base of the mountains, is an undulating country, with soil generally either naturally good or containing clay enough to retain fertilizer, and being generally capable of producing fine crops of clover, cotton, tobacco, or grasses. All fruits of temperative climates can be grown with advantage, and water power is abundant for manufacturing purposes.

The mountain district, more than two hundred miles in length and fifty or sixty broad, is remarkable for its freedom from rocks and for its great natural fertility. It yields abundant grain crops and all the grasses, not being surpassed by any country for its clover, timothy, orchard grass, &c. It is noted for the excellence of its apples especially, while it has many varieties of native grapes, of which the Catawba is the best known. For its cool summer climate it has scarcely an equal, while in winter the weather is milder than that of any of the States north of the Potomac and Ohio. Its water-power, fine timber and minerals all point it out as the future home of a dense population when rendered a little more accessible by railroads now about to penetrate it.

All the central and western portions of North Carolina abound in useful minerals. Coal is found in two localities, while inexhaustable supplies of the best iron ores exist. Copper ores in workable quantities are found in many localities, while some of the best known gold mines are situated in the State. Mica is obtained in large plates, worth in market on an average two dollars per pound, in several of the western counties. One of the mines in Yancey, we understood, pays its owner a profit of $150 per day, chiefly in tolls as he himself works only two or three hands per day. A mine in the adjoining county of Mitchell has yielded quite as largely. These two, with several others, were offered four years ago to some of our capitalist in this city by General Clingman. Since then so many new discoveries have been made that there is no reason to doubt that North Carolina can supply the demands of commerce with this useful article.

There is also in some of the extreme western counties of the State large deposits of corundum, a substance much match superior to emery for abrading purposes. Crystals, too, of this mineral have been found of such character as to encourage the opinion that rubies and other valuable saphires may be found by a propper search. We may resume this subject in future numbers and show our readers additional reasons for our opinion that North Carolina is a most inviting State to the emigrant.

An impatient worshipper in Worcester, Mass., last Sunday cut the sermon short by raising an alarm of fire.

Carrying Points.

"If I only had time to sew the rags I would carpet my bare floors," says one. "A carpet I must and will have," says another, "and while I am making it everything else shall give way." So the house work is done up quickly, and presto, the floor is covered. "I cannot live without beautiful things around me, and when our house burned down," writes one of our correspondents, "and all my pictures were consumed in the flames I went to work straightway and made cone frames, wall baskets, brackets, and everything ornamental described in HOME INTERESTS. I curtained my windows on the outside with morning glories and Mexican creeper, and our two-roomed cabin is a charmed spot." "James is trying to pay off the last mortgage on the place. I must make baby wear clothes cut out of my old dresses, I cannot buy new gloves or a new hat, or a parasol till that debt is paid." If the masses of industrious, intelligent, virtuous people who looked with a steady eye at the main chances, and bend all their energies to carrying two or three important points how few of them would die in rented houses. When a man or a woman distinctly resolves to achieve certain results that are attainable, and work steadily toward them, success is inevitable. "I must have an education," says a poor farmer boy; "with that I can earn money and win fame;" and he does it. How? By improving every spare moment in reading; by saving every penny to buy books. A very large number of intelligent, worthy people, drift along through life and die poor simply because they do not know what they want; rather they do not decide what they must have, what they will have, or die in the attempt to secure.

They would like to have a house of their own, horses and carriages, abundant leisure, fine furniture, and they hope that by some lucky turn all these things will come to them; that they may find buried in one corner of their garden a pot of gold; that an estate in England may fall to them, or a rich old uncle may die and leave them a fat legacy; meantime they must have cake and pie every day, they must go on excursions, they must buy candy for their children. So they live in perpetual dread of rent day; they are servants to another all their lives, when they could be masters in their own right; they "die without the sight."

Let every young man and every young woman who reads these lines pause and ask "What purpose have I distinctly set before me? what am I living for? what do I intend to do with the 60 or 70 years of life God may give me?" Life is nothing without purpose; with purpose, language cannot measure its infinite possibilities! Is it by chance that Thomas Scott is President of the mightest corporation on the continent? Did a happy accident place Horace Greeley at the head of American journalism? Has Bryant won his laurels while twirling one thumb over the other? Is it by hocus pocus that Alexander T. Stewart has piled up a princely fortune? Mighty workers are these, but workers after a plan; not any strokes at random from their right hands, not any waste intellectuality on matters outside their chosen path. If you, O young man, O young woman, feel in your bones that Heaven has made you for any one thing, work for it; mountains may be in the way—tunnel them; chasms may yawn between—bridge them; oceans may roll over your path—stretch a cable beneath them. "All things are possible to him that believeth." A strong purpose, a noble aim, a steadfast looking at the promised good and moving toward it—without these life is not worth the living. To strengthen the heart, to build up the resolve, to quicken aspirations, nothing is more efficient than reading biographies of heroes. Take those of Gustavus Adolphus, of Frederick the great, of Washington; put yourself in sympathy with them and learn the lessons they teach. They will show you that

"——to be weak is miserable, Doing or suffering."

—that to the brave, earnest, watchful soul, defeat is impossible; that only in the bosom of Strength is there Peace.

Mark Twain in a Railroad Car.

I got into the cars and took a seat in juxtaposition to a female. The female's face was a perfect insurance company for her—it insured her against ever getting married to anybody except a blind man. Her mouth looked like a crack in a dry lemon, and there was no more expression than there is in a cup of dry custard. She appeared as though she had been through one famine and got about two-thirds through another. She was old enough to be a great grandmother to Mary that had a little lamb. She was chewing prize pop corn, and carried in her hand a yellow rose, while a bandbox and cotton umbrella nestled sweetly by her side. I couldn't guess whether she was on a mission of charity or was going West to start a saw-mill I was full of curiosity to hear her speak, so I said:

"The exigencies of the times require great circumspection in a person who is traveling."

Said she, "What?"

Says I, "The orb of day shines resplendent in the vault above."

She hitched around uneasy like, then she raised her cotton umbrella and said: "I don't want any of your sass—git out"; and I got out. Then I took a seat alongside a mild fellow who loved to see the ghost of Hamlet lengthen out. He was a stately cuss, and he was reading.

Said I, "Mister, did you ever see a camel-leopard?" I said camel-leapard because it is a pious animal, and never eats any grass without getting down upon its knees.

He said he hadn't seen a camel-leopard.

Then said I, "Do you chew?"

He said, "No sir."

Then said I, "How sweet is nature."

He took this for a conundrum, and said he didn't know. Then he said he was deeply interested in the history of a great man. "Alas! we have but few."

I told him I knew one; "The man that made cooking stoves was a grate man."

Then he asked, "would I read?"

Says I, "What have you got?"

He replied "'Watt's Hymns,' 'Reveries by Moonlight,' and 'How to spend the Sabbath.'"

I said, "none of them for Hannah," but if he had an unabridged business directory of New York city, I

REASONS WHY THE IMMIGRANT SHOULD COME SOUTH INSTEAD OF GOING WEST.

The Southern States, from the effects of the late war, have passed through a most terrible ordeal, but with a settling down of that acerbity of feeling perhaps naturally engendered by defeat, they have greater advantages prompting to immigration within their borders, by those of small (or large) means, than any other quarter of the globe. We unhesitatingly express the belief that for men of small capital, disposed to industrious habits (and without this little accompaniment they cannot succeed anywhere), and with a fair share of intelligence, the opportunities and advantages which are offered for settlement in the Southern States, and especially in North Carolina, are more than two to one in their favor, over those presented in the West. With the same amount of pecuniury means at command, a farm can be secured, stocked, and paid for more readily and certainly in five years in any of these old Atlantic Southern States, than can be accomplished in any of what are now called Western States; for let it be borne in mind that Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Indiana are no longer to be considered as the Western States to which immigrants are invited with the offer of free grants of Government or other lands. All that would be taken as a gift, have long since been secured in these States, and the price to be paid to the railroad companies and speculators for land now, is in general, fully equal to what the immigrant would have to pay for lands at the South, the recuperation of which could be effected at a price not exceeding that which is to be expended in the breaking of the prairie land of the newer West. But to this latter quarter little immigration is now expected in comparison to that which is sought for, in order to populate the vast regions beyond, through which the great railroads and their feeders leading to the Pacific ocean, have to pass.

But to say nothing of the difference in the cost in reaching this home in the far West, and that in the Southern States, and the immigrant is fairly settled and has a fair start with the same amount of capital, what is the prospect of sucess in both cases? We will say nothing in regard to the chances of health in either case, but to the temperate and careful man, the sanitary statistics would show a decided preponderance in favor of the South. In many places undoubtedly there are malarial influence, but it is equally certain that in all new countries when the soil is first broken up, and for years afterwards, or until aclimation takes place, the same evil influences are experienced at the West leaving this difference, to say nothing of the more genial climate in favor of the Southern side of the question, that a judicious course of living, and the means afforded by science, will the sooner enable the denizen of the latter section to overcome the difficulty.

But these considerations being passed over, what is now the prospect of the immigrant in cash? At the Far West the land is new and richer, and will yield large crops of cereals, but after they are harvested, at an expense for labor decidedly greater than what is paid at the South, what are the net results of the sales? The prices current will show that even at the great marts of Chicago, Cincinnati and Cleveland, the price of corn, their great crop, is generally less than one half of those of the Atlantic States, whilst in the interior of the far-off States it is less than one-third that is realized in any of the States of the South.

We will resume this subject in our next, for there is much more to be said on it.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

Connecticut held her State election on the 7th, inst. The Democratic candidate for Governor was elected and the Democrats secure a majority in the House of Representatives. This is claimed as a Democratic triumph, and at first blush it would appear to be so, but it is nothing of the kind. Through a local quarrel between Hartford and New Haven, the Republican candidate for Govenor was defeated, but the Republicans reelected their Congressmen by increased majorities. Governor ENGLISH, the foremost Democrat in New England, ran for Congress in the New Haven District, but was defeated by Mr. KELLOGG by a majority larger than that of two years ago. Thus it will be seen that it was disaffection on the State ticket that defeated the Republicans and not any increasing confidence in the Democratic party. On National issues the Republican party of Connecticut appears to be as rong as ever.

THE PARTY OF PRINCIPLES.

Individuals die, but principles live forever. A party may bury a host of leaders yet if it adheres to principle its strenghth remains unimpaired. The principles of justice underlie the Republican party. They forced it into being; they sustained it through unequal conflict; they upheld it in the hour of supreme trial. The people endorse it because it proclaimed freedom as the birth-right of man, and because they saw in it the only power that could overthrow the despotism of human slavery and the corrupt party that stood between it and outraged liberty. It accomplished w t it set out to do. The institution of slavery is no more. The chattels of yesterday have been transformed into the freemen of to-day. The Democratic party exists only in the traditions of the past. A new era has dawned upon American civilization. This glorious work has been the work of the people. They have recognized and followed leaders as long as those leaders showed devotion to the principles of the party. They abandoned them when they found them untrue to the trust confided in them. The leaders of the past are not the leaders of the present. A few have survived the temptations and trials of years, but the many have either fallen in honorable service, or been left behind because they were found unworthy to lead the advance. Still the party lives, because its principles are as pure and strong as ever. That bad men have crept into into its ranks and worn its honors cannot be denied, but when discovered they have been driven from power as unworthy to trust. We have an abiding faith in the Republican party. As long as the people of the nation endorse the principles of justice, the party will live and exert a controlling influence on national affairs.

From time to time we shall hear of official corruption, but in the future, as in the past, the Republican party will neither justify nor defend it. It has already given abundant evidence of its intention to ferret out and punish rascality wherever found. The party that keeps a vigilant eye upon its own members, that is quick to expose the short comings of its own leaders, that has set its face against corruption in whatever form it appears, is a safe party to trust. It is too early to begin another campaign, but we warn our Democratic friends not to take much stock in the Liberal machine that is being constructed to smash the glorious old party of freedom.

THE FARMERS MOVEMENT IN THE WEST.

The Convention of the Farmers of Illinois held at Springfield week before last was largely attended. The object was to take action concerning the extortionate rates charged by the railway corporations for transporting freight. There has been a long and fiercely waged war between the farmers of the Northwest and the railway companies on this score, but no definite action has been taken by the aggrieved parties. The meeting was characterized by straight-forwardness of speech and action. The injustice of the railroad companies was condemned in the severest terms and individual statements made that justify the indignation there expressed It appeared that the charges for shipping corn to New York by railroad average about thirty eight cents per bushel, when twelve cents per bushel would be a fair compensation. Enormous charges were also made for storage of grain and yardage of cattle. Resolutions were passed calling the attention of the Legislature to the whole matter and demanding relief.

THE MURDER OF GEN. CANBY BY THE MODOC INDIANS.

Official information is received at Washington that Gen. CANBY and Dr. THOMAS were murdered during a peace conference by the Modoc Indians. The noted Capt. Jack shot the General with a pistol. It will be remembered that Gen. CANBY commanded the Department of North and South Carolina during the period of reconstruction.

Gen. SHERMAN has issued the following order:

HEACQUARTERS
ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES,
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 12, 1873.

Gen. Gillem. Modoc Camp, via Yreka, Cal: Your dispatch announcing the terrible loss to the country of Gen. Canby by the perfidity of the Modoc band of Indians has been shown to the President, who authorizes me to instruct you to make the attack so strong and persistent that their fate may be commensurate with their crime. You will be fully justified in their utter extermination.

W. T. SHERMAN, General.

Gen Jeff C. Davis succeeds Canby.

For forty-one years BRIGHAM YOUNG has lived and married among the Mormons. For twenty-nine years he has been the despotic ruler and high priest of the Mormon Church and State. Now that he has reached his seventy-second year he regards himself as entitled to lay aside the cares of government, and to retire to such private life as a man with sixteen wives and sixty children can command. Accordingly, he has resigned all his offices of profit and trust in the Mormon hierarchy, and has announced his intention to withdraw from Salt Lake City, and to seek the seclusion of the Arizona wildernesses.

We have the grasses, and we have proven by actual test that clover, timothy, red top and orchard grass can be grown sucessfully, then why not make our own hay? We have stock in abundance, and our cattle ranges are as fine as any in the world, then why not raise the best of beef? There is no excuse for, or reason why the farmers of North Carolina should not raise stock of every description for themselves and to spare.

GEORGE W. CURTIS has resigned his place as one of the Examining Board in the Civil Service Reform Commission. He avows the reason to be the appointment of officers in flagrant disregard of the rules which the Commission was appointed to carry out. The Board is practically abrogated.

Proceedings of County Commissioners.

Office Board of Commissioners }
Pasquotank County. }
E. City, April 7th, 1873.

Commissioners met to-day: present C. W. Smith, cha'n. Edmond Daily, J. S. Wilcox, Emanuel Davis and Abram Morris.

On motion it was ordered that the Chairman of this Board be directed to correspond with the Cha'n. of the Board of Commissioners of Camden County in relation to reducing the toll now charged for crossing Pasquotank River Bridge and report at the next regular meeting of this Board.

The report of the committee on the road near Little River Bridge was presented and received, and the committee discharged.

Ordered that Jas. S. Wilcox be authorized to have a fence built around the Poor House lot, if he in his judgment thinks it will be for the best interests of the county, also to look after all the property belonging to the Poor House.

Whereas we deem it for the best interests of this county, that there should be made a good road near Little River Bridge, and in view of the favorable report of the committee appointed to estimate the cost of building said road: It is ordered that the trustees of Mt. Herman Township be authorised to pnt out the building or raising of said road to the lowest bidder and the county will pay two thirds of the cost, provided the citizens will pay the other third.

Whereas, complaint has been made to this Board, that certain persons engaged in the sale of ardent spirits have violated the law regulating the sale of the same, and have in other respects demeaned themselves; now, therefore, be it resolved, that lisences be granted to Wm. C. Davis, W. L. Walker, Jabez Pritchett, Wm. T. Jordan, Jeremiah Sawyer, J. W. Walker, Hugh Cale, W. W. Brown, W. B. Berry, A. A. Roberts, C. S. Davis, Wm. Brothers, W. H. C. Walker, Samuel Williams and R. S. Griffin, for one year on the following conditions: Only, that so long as they strictly comply with the requirements of the law, these licenses shall be in force, but upon just complaint they shall be forfeited.

Ordered that the case of S. D. Scott, Jno. T. Avery and A. P. White vs. Jas. Harrell (overseer of the road) be continued to the next regular meeting of this Board.

The following is a list of Jurors drawn for Spring term 1873:

1ST WEEK.—Isaac Griffin, Henry Davis, Jerre Sawyer, John Parker, Thomas Godfrey, Stephen O. Mullen, J. J. Elliott, Levi Bowe, Alson Saley, Sam'l. Davis, L. P. Etheridge, Duke Scott, Wm. J. Honest Men to the Front.

The Republican party can afford to repudiate its dishonesty followers. The official that wears its garments must toe the mark of honesty or take a back seat. The great body of the American people were never more in earnest on this point than now. The grade of statesmen that come into power hereafter will be a trifle higher than in the past. The Forty-second Congress has had its full share of honest and noble men; but it has also had a class that failed to live up to the true standard of Republican morality. The people weighed these men, found them wanting, and have sent better ones to fill their places. The lessons which have lately been taught by the press of the country will not be lost on the men who come up fresh from the people. Recent investigations have done good in more ways than one. They have brought our true men to the necessity of sending as their representatives the very best men that can be produced.

The Republican party is not immaculate. It has in its ranks men who disgrace their manhood by acts which no Republican can justify. But we have enough sterling honesty left to fill all the offices in the land, and to keep them filled for some years to come, without risking a choice from among the army of Democrats who are at present tendering their "honesty services" to Uncle Sam.

The Apache raids into the Mexican territory are unabated, robberies and murders are frequent.

The Court-house in Watanga County was destroyed by by fire on the 20th, of March. None of the records were saved.

Many of the Congressmen whom the people has given leave to stay at home are asking the President for a chance to go abroad.

The papers tell of a New-Hampshire woman who was not married until she was sixty years of age and had since had four husbands, all of whom are now dead. She survives.

A killing frost is reported from Texas and Georgia. The crops and fruit are all killed, and replanting has commenced.

A man at Fort Wayne, Ind., dropped his well filled pocketbook in a depot on the 1st inst., and found it some time after, as everybody around had been afraid of being "fooled."

Northwestern papers state that the past winter has been very severe on small game. Hundred of quails and patridges have been found under the snow, frozen or dead from starvation. Rabbits and squirrels have died from similar causes.

The revenue officers in the Third North Carolina District recently seized several thousands of dollars worth of contraband whiskey and tobacco, and arrested several parties charged with defrauding the Government.

A negro nemed George Lea was recently convicted by the Criminal Court in Caswell County, North Carolina, for rape upon the person of an old lady, Miss Ann Kersey, aged seventy-four, on the 20th, of March last. He was sentenced by Judge Tourgee to be hanged on the 6th, of May next.

The city of San Salvador, the capital of the Central American Republic of that name, has been destroyed by an earthquake, causing terrible loss of life. Eight hundred persons perished, and property valued at twelve million dollars was destroyed. The earthquake was followed by a conflagration and many buildings were burned.

COPARTNERSHIP NOTICE.—

The copartnership heretofore existing between Dr. D. T. Krebs and J. W. Turner, under the firm name of D. T. Krebs & Co., has been dissolved by mutual consent. The books and accounts of the late firm will be found with J. W. Turner at the old stand, corner of Main and Road streets, where Mr. Turner will at all times be glad to greet his old patrons not only to receive the money due the late firm, but also to show them his largely increased stock of Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Oils, Segars, Glass, Putty, Dye Stuffs, Fancy Goods, Stationery, Perfumery, and in fact everything belonging to, or found in, a first-class Drug Store.

DR. D. T. KREBS,
JNO. W. TURNER.

As seen by the above notice I have retired from the late firm of D. T. Krebs & Co., in order to give my whole attention to the practice of Medicine and Surgery, and I earnestly commend my late partner, Mr. Turner, to our old patrons and the whole public as a first-class Druggist.

UNITED STATES INTERNAL REVENUE.

Under "An Act for the Reduction of Officers and Expenses of the Internal Revenue," approved December 24th, 1872, it is required that every person or firm liable to special tax must, on or before the 30th day of April of each year, file with the Collector a sworn return on form No. 11, (Copies of which have been sent to every dealer in the District), and pay to such Officer the amount of the tax, when he will be furnished with a "Special Tax Stamp," "which must be at all times conspicuously displayed in his or their place of business."

Many Dealers do not seem to be aware of the requirements of the Act referred to, and of the regulations of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, relating thereto; and, instead of complying with said requirements simply sign their name to the blanks, (form No. 11), furnished them, and return them to this office.

Every person or firm liable to a special tax is earnestly requested to carefully read the note of instructions on blank form 11, and to strictly observe the requirements of said note.

Tax-payers filing their "Returns for Special Taxes" (form 11), with the Collector or Deputy Collector, must pay the taxes and procure "Special Tax Stamps" for the following year beginning May 1st, proximo.

BANKRUPTCY.

THE FIFTY PER CENT. CLAUSE.

As there seems to be a misunderstanding in regard to the effect of the provision of the Bankrupt Act, commonly called the 50 per cent. clause, we publish the following extracts from the Act:

The second clause of the tairty-third section as amended by the Act of July 27, 1868, provides "that no discharge shall be granted to a debtor whose assets shall not be equal to fifty per centum of the claims proved against his estate upon which he shall be liable as the principal debtor, unless the assent of writing of a majority in number and value of his creditors to whom he shall have become liable as principal debtor, and who shall have proved their claims, filed in the case at or before the time of hearing of the application for discharge.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled—that the provision of the second clause of the thirty-third section of said act as amended by the first section of an act in amendment thereof, approved July 27th, 1868, shall not apply to those debts from which the bankrupt seeks a discharge which were contracted prior to January 1st, 1869.

The true meaning is not that a bankrupt must be able to pay fifty per cent of all his debts, before he can obtain a discharge, as many believe; but that his estate, in the hands of his assignee, at the time of the discharge, must be equal, to fifty per cent. of the amount of the debts.

1. That he owes as principal;
2. That have been proved against his estate in bankruptcy; and
3. That he has contracted since the 31st day of December, 1868.

Or, if a majority in number and value of those who have proved their debts, to whom the bankrupt is indebted as principal, on debts contracted subsequent to Dec., 31, 1868, consent in writing to the discharge—such bankrupt may be discharged forever from all his debts.

If a debtor, owing three thousand dollars principal, twenty-five hundred of which is debtedness was contracted prior to January 1, 1869, and five hundred subsequent to that time, files his petition in bankruptcy, and all his creditors prove against him, and there are no assets in the hands of the assignee, the petitioner will be entitled to a discharge; but it will be a bar only to the debts contracted prior to January 1, 1869.—If no creditors prove, the discharge will be good against all debts, whether contracted before or after January 1, 1869.

The practical effect in bankruptcy cases generally is, that creditors fail to prove their debts, finding it ordinarily unprofitable. They have had, in a large majority of instances, heretofore the trouble and expense of making proof, without receiving any return. The 50 per cent. bugbear, therefore when viewed in the light of the law and common-sense, disappears.

EXEMPTIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

The exemptions under the 14th section of the Bankrupt Act are as follows.

1. Household and Kitchen furniture to no amount not exceeding $500,00
2. Wearing apparel of Bankrupt and family.
3. Uniform, &c., if he has been a soldier in the United States Army.
4. Personal property of the value of $ to be selected by the Bankrupt.
5. A Homestead and the dwelling and buildings used therewith, not exceeding in value the sum of $1000,00; or in lieu thereof, any lot in any city, town or village not exceeding in value the sum of $1000,000.
6. The reversionary interest in the Homestead lands.

In laying off the Exemptions in some Districts, the Assignees are ordered to accept and abide by, any assignment of a homestead which has been made by a Sheriff under the State laws; or which has been assigned upon the application of a debtor in accordance with the laws of North Carolina. Where no such assignment of homestead has been made, the assignee will proceed to set apart such homestead, and make the other exemptions according to the rules of the bankrupt Court.

The report of such exemptions when made by the assignee can be excepted to by

THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisement in this issue.

Notice.
Bankrupt Notices.
Horses & Mules for sale.
Nervous Debility.
Copartnership Notice.
Notice to Teachers.
United States Internal Revenue.

Local and Personal.

☞Federal Court here next week.

☞Court at Edenton this week. Judge WATTS presides.

☞The Odd Fellows of this city are preparing for an Anniversary Ball at the "Albemarle House" on the 25th, inst.

☞Prof. J. W. CHICKERING of the Deaf Mute College of Washington D. C., preached in the Baptist church on Sunday evening.

☞We call attention to an interesting article on our first page on "North Carolina." It is from the South, an able weekly journal published in New York.

☞The officer who was detailed by the United States Light House Bureau to select a site for a Light House on Currituck beach has decided to locate it at Whale's Head.

☞JAMES PRICE, of Nixonton, died very suddenly, of heart disease, on Saturday morning last. He had walked into the village and while standing on the street all at once complained of severe pain in the region of the heart, fell back and in ten minutes expired. He was a brother of our Post Master, and was about 48 years of age.

☞We all feel proud of our new Hotel—the "Albemarle House." It is filling a long needed want. It is well kept and we are glad to know that it is well patronized. The men who originated and secured the site on which it stands and the man who planned and built it—all showed a worthy public spirit. Long may it stand, a monument to the indomitable energy of the projecter and proprietor W. H. SMITH Esq.

☞The attention of those desiring to teach School in Pasquotank County is directed to the announcement in this issue of the CAROLINIAN of the County Board of Examiners. Under the new law certificates now held, given by County Examiners, cannot be used, and no Teacher can receive an order for wages who does not present a certificate of mental and moral qualifications from the Board of Examiners.

☞A correspondent who knows what he is talking about says that when a hen lays an egg she cackles. It is hen-nature. When a man gets in a new stock of goods, it is human for him to crow over it. When the hen cackles, people know that she has laid in some fresh stock and feels proud of it. When the merchant opens his new styles, and blows his trumpet in the newspapers, people know that he has something on hand that is worth advertising. Blow your own trumpet once in a while. It won't hurt you or the trumpet either.

☞Under the new U. S. Internal Revenue law every person or firm liable to Special Tax, must, on or before the 30th, day of April of each year, or before commencing business, if such business is commenced subsequent to April 30th, file with the Collector or Deputy Collector a sworn return of the same, and pay to such officer the amount of the tax, when he will be furnished with a Special-Tax Stamp, which must be at all times conspicuously displayed in his or their place of business.

☞The aerolite referred to in our last issue was seen at different points. It was observed at Edenton, at Elizabeth City, at Norfolk, and at Clarkesville, Va. A correspondent from the latter place thus describes it:

"Just before sunset, suddenly appearing in the sky about forty-five degrees above the eastern horizon, and in a few moments it burst with a loud noise, resembling thunder. Flames darted from it and showers of sparks fell. The meteor was seen by a great many people, but as it fell over the marsh bordering the sea it was impossible to obtain any of the fragments. The loudness of the noise, and the brightness of the blaze attracted great attention."

☞We learn that it has been decided to establish a number of Signal Stations on our coast between Capes Henry and Hatteras. From Cape Henry to Body Island the stations will be 10 miles apart, and after reaching that point will be closer together. Each station will be under the charge of a keeper, and will be provided with a life boat, with a crew of six men, mortars for firing lines over wrecked ships, life boxes and all other necessary appliances for saving life and property. We understood that the work will be commenced at once, and that by the end of summer all the necessary houses &c., are to be finished. The people along the coast are indebted to Hon. C. L. COBB for all this.

☞A very sad casuality occurred in the family of Rev. MAURICE H. VAUGHAN of this city on Saturday morning last, resulting in the death of an interesting little daughter. The family had partaken of some bologna sausage. Shortly after, the little daughter, aged about 2½ years, was attacked with alarming symptoms; medical aid was at once summoned, but of no avail—in about two hours after the attack little LIZZIE was a corpse. A little brother was also severely attacked, but prompt and active treatment relieved him Both Mr. and Mrs. VAUGHAN likewise felt peculiar symptoms, but they soon passed over. It is supposed the sausage contained some poisonous matter. We sincerely sympathize with the parents in their afflicting bereavement.

☞A meeting was held in Woods Hall on Monday evening to consider the question of organizing an association, the object of which shall be to guard and promote the best interests of those who labor. We understand that another meeting will be called at an early day.

☞The Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee publishes a call in this issue of the CAROLINIAN for a Convention to nominate candidates for municipal officers. We hope that a good ticket will be nominated—men qualified and who have the best interests of the City, its improvement, developement and sanitary condition at heart. We believe this will be done. The Republicans are united and good feeling prevails.

☞The fisheries are all in full blast and those near the City are doing much better than they did the first week or two. The Sound Fisheries are doing an unprecedentedly large business. Fish—shad, rock, perch and herring—were never so plentiful and never so cheap. They are being caught in larger quantities than can be shipped or packed. By the way the Fishing interest of this region, including the Albemarle Sound and Edenton, are more immense and important than is generally supposed. There is over $250,000 invested in nets alone at these Fisheries. Up to this time over a million and a half of shad have been caught, and they are still coming in. The shad catching season usually begins about the latter part of February. At first a net, "called a gill net" is used. It is staked down, and the meshes of the net are large enough to admit the head and gills of a marketable shad, and when the head once enters a mesh the fish cannot withdraw it on account of its gills being caught in the twine, and there it stays until the men who attend the net take it out. The fish caught in these nets command a greater price than any other, partly because they are finer and more equal in size, and because they are not as much bruised as those caught in seines. Each gill net is six fathoms or thirty-six feet long, and two men with a canoe are able to attend to nearly two hundred of these nets. There are over one hundred of these canoes at Edenton and Albemarle Sound, and it may be seen from this what an immense number of nets must be employed in this branch of fishery alone. These gill nets are all laid away by the first of April, and from that time until the first of May they use a net called a haul seine. There are eighteen of these nets in use at the above named places, each one being from twelve hundred to two thousand fathoms in length, and during the busy season one hundred men often find employment with each of these nets, their wages being in proportion to their experience in that line. In the seines rock fish and immense quanties of herrings are sometimes caught. As many as a thousand lbs of herring have been taken in one haul. Some of these seines are worked by an Engine; the others by horse power.

Dr. D. T. Krebs wishes to inform his patrons and the public generally that he has returned from his Northern trip and is waiting with great patience to greet more patients.

The Doctor has had sixteen years experience as a Physician, having graduated at the Penn. Med. College in Philadelphia, close of 1856. Two years of his practice have been in the South, and have made him conversant with our local diseases, and their proper treatment. Having complete sets of Surgical instruments, the Doctor will give special attention to surgical practice, particularly to the eye and ear. Thankful for past patronage the Doctor respectfully solicits a reasonable share in the future. Office at the Albemarle House, which is open at all hours both day and night.

Elizabeth City, N. C., April, 15, 1873.

Now somebody has been questioning the honesty of the "Father of his Country." It is said that a man in the neighborhood of Troy holds a note for $1,500 against the General for supplies furnished during the revolutionary war, one-half of which was never paid. We expect to hear next that the immortal George learned how to tell lies after the little episode of the hatchet and the cherry trees.

A down East editor must feel uncomfortable. He says: "A country subscriber writes that he is just recovering from the small pox, and will be on in a few days to renue his subscription. We hope he won't mind a little thing like that. We will send the paper and wait for the money. We will wait cheerfully. We ain't of that avaricious kind of people who will grab for money as if for very life We despise such things. There's no earthly reason for his coming on; we will wait."

DEATHS.

COBB.—At this place on Sunday night CLINTON LEVERING, infant son of William R. and Laura E. Cobb, aged 2 weeks and 5 days.

MULLEN—In Hertford, N. C., on Feb. 28th, 1873, THOMAS and on Mar 24th, 1873, JOSEPH MULLEN, sons of James W. and Susan Mullen;

Thomas and Joseph Mullen sons of Mr James W. and Susan Mullen, of Hertford, N C., were born April 17th, 1855. Thomas died February 28th, 1873; Joseph died March 24th, 1873. Thomas was first attacked with Pneumonia, then with Menengitis which soon carried him to the grave. Joseph was to all appearances in perfect health on Thursday, but was suddenly attacked by the same disease and on Monday he was a corpse. Thus these twins in time may be said to be twins in eternity. They were amiable in disposition, affectionate, dutiful and obodient sons, moral in conduct, loved by their associates and school-mates, and highly esteemed by all the community. About to enter upon manhood, their prospects for a happy and useful life were brilliant. The many friends of the family deeply sympathize with them in their sad bereavement. The bursting buds were too tender for the withering blast of a sinful earth, and God, we trust, took them to bloom in a more genial and happy clime above. A FRIEND.

Half Alive.

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific diseases; they suffer no positive pain; but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensious pleasure to their more robust and energetic fellow-beings.

In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression? The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterwards into a more pitiable condition than ever (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant was resorted to), but radically and permanently.

How to this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time in administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By this time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be cacated, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the materal of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

Beware of Counterfeits!

JOB MOSES' SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS
are extensively COUNTERFEITED. Dishonest Druggists endeavor to sell the counterfeits to make greater profits. The genuine have the name of Job Moses on each package. All others are worthless imitations. The GENUINE Pills are unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. They moderate all excesses and remove all obstructions, from whatever cause.

TO MARRIED LADIES
they are particularly suited. They will in a short time bring on the monthly period with regularity; and although very powerful, contain nothing hurtful to the constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pains in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics and Whites, they will effect a cure when all other means have failed. The circulars around each package give full directions and advice, or will be sent free to all writing for them, sealed from observation.

N. B.—In all cases where the GENUINE cannot be obtained, One Dollar enclosed to the Sole Proprietor, JOB MOSES, 18 Cortlandt St., New York, will insure a bottle of the genuine, containing Fifty Pills, by return mail, securely sealed from any knowledge of its contents.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES.

FOUTZ'S
CELEBRATED
Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.
It is a sure preventive of all diseases Incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

Charms Around our Farms.

The means by which country labor shall be rendered attractive to boys and girls is becoming a subject of earnest discussion by the rural press. The great tendency, so plainly and painfully manifest, of our youth to leave the wearisome and plodding life of plow-boys and potato-diggers is waking up our agricultural thinkers to the importance of surrounding country life and country labors with the charms, and honors, of festivities, which of right belong to them. Especially now that the toils of the field and furrow begin to press, and every pair of hands on a place, little and big, can be profitably employed, our thrifty farmers need to see to it that "all work and no play" shall not make of "Jack a dull boy." Sprouting potatoes isn't very lively employment, especially in a dark cellar and for two or three days at a time. Picking up stones will make even a small boy's back ache and his fingers sore if long continued. Piling brush is pleasanter work. If there is a promise that a bright blaze shall follow it. All this drugery will be performed with nimbler fingers and a lighter heart if there is a promise of fishing or kite-flying to follow it. But, what is even better than this, give the lads a plot of ground of their own to cultivate; let them have early peas, tomato plants, peach trees, grape vines, chickens, sage plants of their own, and in which to cultivate them, full facilities for realizing every penny possible from their sale, and enjoy the fruits of their labors in the full privilege of investing their profits in whatever they choose, acting, however, under the advice of their parents. Not only should the boys be encouraged to love farm industries, but the girls should have an equal chance. Let them have strawberry plants, bees, flowers, bed of herbs to cultivate, pet lambs and their increase, a percentage of the butter and cheese made by their labor, or the milk sold in the care of which they have a part; and and if you would have them develope into normal, contented, serene womanhood, give them an equal chance with the boys. If your son John is old enough to earn half a man's wages, don't cheat your own flesh and blood out of the just fruits of his toil. If Mary earns as much as a hired girl washing dishes and cooking for the farm hands, give her of the labor of her hands. The old Mosaic law, "Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn," has never been abrogated. If even oxen—dumb, patient brutes as they are—are to be thus kindly treated, what shall we say of the duties of parents to their children?

There is another class of boys for whom we feel inclined to put in a plea—chore boys. They have no vital interest in the soil they cultivate, and their employer's interest is often, in seeming to get out of them as much work as possible with as little remuneration. But to act on this principle is a great mistake. One of the best farmers and farm writers in this country began his career as chore-boy. He was fortunate in his employer, who taught him carefully in the most approved modes of tillage, and held out before him pecuniary inducements to industry and successful labor. The readers of the CAROLINIAN are much indebted to him for valuable counsel and suggestions. Another prominent farm-writer and ardent lover of agriculture and rural life was nearly spoiled for his noble work by being set to solitary labor, sprouting potatoes, picking up stones, hoeing alone in grassy corn fields, and thus for years formed a repugnance for rural toil which was hard to overcome.

There are occasions of festivity in the life of every child that should not be suffered to pass unimproved. Let no economical farmer's wife, unless the land she lives on is very heavily mortgaged, count eggs, or weigh butter and sugar on birthdays, except to make liberal provisions in honor of the aniversary. In the Summer time let the repast be under the trees, and the table adorned with such flowers as the season affords, and garnished with fruits from the preserve closet or the orchard.

On Washington's birthday, on the Fourth of July, at Christmas and New Year's, on the anniversary of the marriage-day, let the children have a jolly time, with mirth and frolic and festivity crowning the gladsome hours, and enjoying every resource the farm affords to add to their enjoyment.

These simple means will do to lighten the long toils of seed-time and harvest, to make the heavy yoke of strenuous toil less galling, and cultivate deep in the heart of our youth a genuine love for the honest, manly, and honorable labors of rural life.

Growth of Corals.

An interesting fact has recently been observed respecting the growth of corals. Somewhat less than two years ago Capt. McGregor, of the steamer Kalanea, moored a buoy in Kealakekua Bay. Not long ago he was ordered to hoist the anchor and examine the condition of the chain. The latter which was a heavy two inch cable, was found covered with corals and oyster-shells, some of which are as large as a man's hand. The larger corals measure 4½ inches in length, which represents their growth during the period of two years that the anchor and cable had been submerged. The specimen which we have seen shows the nature of its formation by the little coral insects more distinctly than any we have before examined. When taken out of the water it had small crabs on it. A query arises whether these crabs live on the coral insects, or whether they simply seek the branches of the coral for protection. The popular supposition is that corals are of extremely slow growth. Here we have a formation equal to more than seventeen feet in a century.

To Destroy Joint Grass.

Joint grass is often troublesome in the cultivation of corn and tobacco. The strong roots send forth new shoots each Spring, and not only exhausts the soil, but overrun the crops. On a farm recently purchased which was covered with joint grass. I put sheep early in the season, as soon as the grass started, after which I plowed the land to the depth of three or four inches, as far as the fibers reached. I then thoroughly dragged the ground till the light roots covered the surface, and again the sheep were turned on the fields. In a short time every vestage of the roots was destroyed, and sheep had enriched the land, increasing its value 1½ per cent. Pour brine upon a few of the roots once or twice if the sheep do not eat them at first. White daises, thistles, artichokes, &c., are effectually destroyed by constant and close grazing, commencing in the early Spring.—Rural New-Yorker.

The ingenuity and enterprise of your genuine, downeast Yankee is not to be disputed. They can even make their murderers profitable. They charge ten cents at the Portland Jail for a sight at Wagner, the Isle of Shoals murdered, and propose to pay off the county debt with the proceeds.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST HOW RESTORED.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, induced by self indulgence or sexual extravagance.

☞ Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cent.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

☞ This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 50 cent.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.
OF VALUABLE
NORTH CAROLINA LANDS, FOR SALE BY
GEORGE D. POOL.
Real Estate Agent,
ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

A farm of 700 acres in Pasquotank County 10 miles from town, with fine two story dwelling, large barn, kitchen and other outhouses; as also, two other dwellings, barns and other houses at different points on the farm. This farm is all cleared but 150 acres, is free from swamps and other waste land, and is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, &c. The price is $14,000 in easy payments.

A farm of 500 acres in Pasquotank County, 6 miles from town, and one mile from the River, with good new dwelling built in modern style, barn, stables, four tenant houses scattered over the farm, fine water, &c. This farm is situated on the most public road in the County, has 300 acres cleared and balance in splendid pine, oak, cypress, maple, sweet gum, and other valuable timber. It is peculiarly adapted to raising cotton, $50 per acre, net, having been realized on a part of it this year in cotton. It also grows corn, wheat, oats, and other crops well. Price $12,000 in easy payments.

A valuable vacant lot in the town of E. City containing a half square, on the principal street in the town immediately opposite Court House square. Has an iron fence in front, fine shrubbery, and is near the large new Hotel just erected, Price $2,000 in easy payments.

Also another valuable vacant lot in same town of two acres, in a good neighborhood, with a new and valuable fence 9 feet high around it. Price $1,000 in easy payments.

A lot of three acres of land in the suberbs of the town, and within convenient distance of the business part of the town, with good two story dwelling, garner, stables, &c. This is a desirable purchase, and is offered for $4,000 in easy payments.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1 200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2.000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotauk county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has good buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., which cost over $ 15,000 two years ago. The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $ 12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2, 500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The build ings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smoke houses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A Farm of 200 acres within one mile of Elizabeth City, with good two story dwelling, large barn and stables, and all necessary outhouses, orchard of fine fruit trees, and a large number of ornamental trees and shrubbery around dwelling. This farm is on one of the most public roads in the County—is in a high state of cultivation—has fine and durable fences, &c. Altogether, it is the richest land and most desirable location, anywhere in the neighborhood of the town. Price $6000—one-half cash, balance in easy payments.

A NEW ERA IN JOURNALISM.

THE GREAT ACHIEVEMENT OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC
All the News and Full of Pictures.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC is the title of a newspaper, published in New York, which is achieving the most remarkable journalistic success ever chronicled. It is an eight-page evening paper (three editions daily), elegantly printed, and conducted by the ablest editorial talent attainable.

As a newspaper THE DAILY GRAPHIC stands in the first rank, and contains regularly
THE VERY LATEST AND FULLEST
NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Its great feature consists in the fact that it is not only a newspaper, but an illustrated newspaper as well. Four of its pages are filled with choice reading matter—telegrams, editorials, general and local news, items, gossip, and correspondence on the freshest and most interesting topics. The remaining four pages consist of executed in the most faultless and artistics style, and portraying accurately and fully all leading events within twenty-four hours after their occurrence. Those who have made journalism a study, and fully appreciate the great enterprise manifested in the collection and publication of news by the aid of the telegraph, steam presses, and the development of journalistic talent, have been fond of advancing the theory that the next advance in that field would result in a newspaper furnishing in its regular issues pictures of all current prominent events. That theory is a theory no longer; the newspaper of the future is the newspaper of to-day, and that paper is THE DAILY GRAPHIC. The processes which render this marvellous acheivement an existing fact are the result of the most carefull study and an endless variety of experiments, gradually perfected during the past twelve years. They depend upon improvements in lithographic and the application of the photographic camera. By their aid a picture is engraved and made ready to print in from twenty minutes to two hours. Costly and elaborate plates, works of art, scenes of interest, are reproduced and pictured forth with equal facility and the most scrupulous fidelity. Illustrations of leading events are engraved and prepared for the press even before the accompanying written narrative or description leaves the hands of the compositor.

For the proper practical working of so great an enterprise, THE GRAPHIC COMPANY was formed, with

CAPITAL OF $500,000 IN GOLD, months and months before the first issue of THE DAILY GRAPHIC, the most extensive preparations were made, and to-day THE GRAPHIC COMPANY has

The Largest and most Complete Newspaper Establishment in the United States.

In the great work of illustrating the events of the day an extensive corps of the best known and most accomplished artists are constantly engaged.

THE DAILY GRAPHIC aims to be in its strictest sense a newspaper. Striving always to be just and truthful, it discusses all questions independently and impartially. It is not the organ of any party, sect, or creed. It is always high-toned, and contains nothing to offend any taste. Its contents give it an immense advantage over the "old fashioned" papers. The annual subscriber gets a volume of twenty-for hundred pages, constituting a valuable record of events and a graphic panorama of our time and progress. It possesses not merely a local interest, but is a paper for every reader of the language. It is, emphatically,

SUGAR OF MILK.

Patented July. 23d 1872.

A FARINACEOUS FOOD FOR INVALIDS AND INFANTS.

By the peculiar process in which this preparation is made, all the flesh forming constituents—EARTH and SALINE elements of the grain are retained, with NONE of the STARCH, all of which being converted into Dextrine. It contains all the Lime, Sulphur, Phosphorus, Iron and Manganese for the annimal judices, and Gum and Fecula for respiration and fatty tissue, with the proteine compounds (Gluten, Albumen &c.) from which nerve and muscular tissue, are found.

is believed by the most inteligent men that much of the suffering, sickness and mortality of mankind is traceable to deficient or faulty nutrition. The same cause may also be assigned the frequent disapointment of physicians in the result of the ation of most approved remedies.

We feel sure that this article will supply the deficiency.

Sugar of Milk.

[LACTIN.]

Is a chystarlized sugar, obtained from the whey of cow's milk by evoporation. It is manufactured largely in Switzerland and the Bavarian Alps as an article of food and for medical purposes.

It has been used considerably in England as non-nitrogenous articele of diet in Consumption and other Pulmonary Diseases, and with excelent effect in extreme Irritability of the Stomach, (see Wood & Bache's Dispensatory.)

We manufacture 2 grades:—No 1, in yellow wrapper, ground coarse, to be eaten as cracked wheat, with cream. No. 2, white wrapper, is ground into Flour for Puddings, Blanc-Mange and Bread.

DIRECTIONS.

For making Mush with No. 1, Ground Coarce.—Mix four tablespoonfuls of the Wheat with a gill of cold water; rub into a smooth paste; then pour it into a pint of boiling water, stirring briskly, boil for 20 minutes.

To be eaten with rich cream.

For Puddings, &c. use No 2, Ground Fine.—Mix a tablespoonful of the food with a small quantity of cold water rub to a smooth paste; add to one-half pint of boiling water, constantly stirring, and boil about 8 minutes over a moderate fire. Add milk and flavor to taste. For bread, use as ordinary flour.

PRICE 50 CENTS A POUND.

PACKED IN A PATENTED ORNAMENTAL TIN CAN.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PROSPECTUS.
THE REPUBLIC.

Believing that the inestimable privilege self-government guaranteed by the Federal Constitution involve corresponding duties, that among these are sleepless vigilance, the devotion of the best thoughts and labors of the citizen in aid of the preservation developement of our country and institutions we have determined, in furtherance of these objects, to establish a monthly magazine, devoted to the discussion of the science of government and to a review or political events.

Assuming that the legitimate object of government is provision for welfare and happiness of the citizen, his physical, educational growth and moral development, THE REPUBLIC will bring to this test economic questions, political action, and governmental measures.

Holding firmly that in a republic, as ours is, political parties are necessary, and that they furnish the best, and only means of that constant and severe scrutiny
